

UCL COURSE CERTIFICATION

University Preparatory Certificate

12 July 2013

This is to certify that Aigul Sharip was registered as a University Preparatory Certificate (UPC) student at Nazarbayev University, Astana from September 2012 to July 2013. During the course Aigul studied the following subjects on the UCL UPC and was awarded the marks shown:

Subject	Marks obtained
Academic English	70
Science and Society	76
Chemistry	68
Biology	77
Overall Score	<hr/> 73
Overall	Pass

The final course marks consist of continuous assessment (40%) and final examinations (60%).

To qualify for the UCL University Preparatory Certificate, students must have an overall score of at least 40%, with a minimum of 60% in Academic English, 40% in Science & Society, and 40% in each science subject including a compulsory pass of 40% in both final science subject examinations. A distinction is awarded for achieving 72% in each of the four subjects.

Dr Christine Hoffmann